Big Bombers Again Hit the Enemy

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — For the fifth day the U.S. Air Force today flew heavy raids against North Vietnamese forces intensifying their attacks on a South Vietnamese base near the Laotian Border.

Three waves of big B52 bombers dropped nearly 300 tons of bombs on bunkers, base camps and storage and staging areas within seven miles of Fire Base O'Reilly.

Other B52s hammered North Vietnamese supply depots and transshipment points on the Laotian side of the border.

Smaller U.S. fighter-bombers also kept up attacks closer to O'Reilly, trying to hit mortars, rockets and recoilless cannon that this week have pumped about 500 rounds of shells into the base and South Vietnamese patrols operating around it.

Military spokesmen said the fighter-bombers had flown more than 100 missions since Monday around the base, and that this was about 20 per cent of the Air Force's entire operation in Vietnam during that period.

South Vietnamese military headquarters said its forces with the help of American bombers had killed 530 North Vietnamese in operations around O'Reilly since July 1.

A spokesman said the South Vietnamese forces also had captured 157 enemy rifles, 33 heavy weapons such as mortars, and 300 mortar rounds and rocket grenades.

The spokesman said 57 South Vietnamese had been killed and 92 wounded in the operations.

O'Reilly is one of a cluster of firebases in the northwestern part of the country blocking an enemy advance from the jungled mountains near the Laotian border into the populous coastal lowlands around Hue and Quang Tri City, about 25 miles to the east.

Financial Problems at AM&N College

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Thursday night that Arkansas AM&N College at Pine Bluff is plagued with "very serious financial problems."

He said that he had taken steps to end "fiscal mismanagement" at the college. Presently, five employees of the state Administration Department are at the college to evaluate the school's financial picture.

The governor said that "poor financial management, including deficit spending, and some evidence of highly questionable practices from a legal point of view" had been reported to him.

He said that following an investigation by the state Administration Department it was determined that the school cannot meet its financial obligations.

Dr. Max Milam, director of the state Administration Department, estimated that the college's overdue bills are about $900,000.

Orvel M. Johnson, director of the state Legislative Joint Audit Committee, said the committee will receive an audit of the college's financial picture next Friday. He said the audit will show the school had "hundreds of thousands" of dollars in overdue bills.

Southside Meet Starts Sunday

Southside Assembly of God will hold a revival meeting from September 13 to 20 with services each night at 7:30 o'clock. The Evangelist will be the Rev. Sammy Hayes of North Little Rock.

Dr. Max Milam, director of the state Administration Department, estimated that the college's overdue bills are about $900,000.

Orvel M. Johnson, director of the state Legislative Joint Audit Committee, said the committee will receive an audit of the college's financial picture next Friday. He said the audit will show the school had "hundreds of thousands" of dollars in overdue bills.

Municipal Elections Deadline

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The remaining deadlines for filing—or refiling—for municipal offices are approaching.

Because of confusion over filing procedures this year, the Arkansas Municipal League has sent a reminder to cities and towns, but league officials say many people still are perplexed.

It already is too late to file for some municipal offices in some cities. In others, the deadline is midnight Sept. 19. In still others, the deadline is Sept. 24.

William G. Fleming, assistant director of the league, said the league had received a number of telephone inquiries because of misunderstandings over filing procedures, despite earlier attempts to clarify the situation.

Fleming said the deadline for filing was June 16 for those offices which were contested in party primary elections Aug. 25.

He estimated that 25 to 50 cities and towns held primaries, including North Little Rock, Pine Bluff, Van Buren, Fordyce, Forrest City, El Dorado and Prescott.

There has been no court decision to establish clearly what application to give to certain filing statutes, Fleming said.

But the league believes that persons could file for offices in cities where primaries were held, provided there was no candidate for the office when the primary was held, he said.

Most cities and towns had no local primaries. Among them were Hot Springs, Jonesboro, Springdale, Rogers and many more. Fleming said the deadline for filing in those cities is Sept. 19.

Since, however, that date is on a Saturday, he recommended that candidates file by the close of business on Friday, Sept. 18.

In 10 Arkansas cities, the deadline, however, is Sept. 24. Fleming said. These are the cities which have the city manager form of government. They are Arkadelphia, Brinkley, Camden, De Queen, Fayetteville, Hope, Little Rock, Newport, and Texarkana, plus Fort Smith which has a city administrator type of government.

A 1969 law, now part of the Arkansas Election Code, set June 16 as the filing deadline for municipal offices that were contested in a party primary, although historically few cities and towns have had local primaries.

Traditionally, municipal offices are sought by individuals who run on a nonpartisan basis. This year, Fleming estimated, about 4,000 city and town posts are involved.

Cities without primaries had filing deadlines in September, but it was discovered early this year that the law left open the possibility of a massive takeover of municipal positions by a political party.

Neither the Democrats, Republicans nor American party organizations attempted any takeover, however.

A takeover could have been achieved by a party through a flood of filings for municipal government jobs on June 16, making that date the filing deadline for independents. The theory was that independents, given no sign that a primary was forthcoming, would miss the boat when the political party filings made June 16 the last filing day.

Many candidates running as independents filed by June 16 as a precautionary measure.

Now, however, the question is whether those filings are valid, and Fleming has recommended that, to be on the safe side, independent candidates file again if they still wish to run in communities that had no primaries.

political "high road."

Nixon sought to place responsibility for present national ills on the Democrats who inhabited the White House from 1961 until he took office on January 20, 1969. He said:

"Too many promises of the 1960s have not been kept. The nation is now paying the price for this."

"In the name of the 'urban crisis' for example, the 1960s saw the federal government increasingly caught in issues of municipal housekeeping that are most appropriately the business of a city council. But simultaneously, the great fiscal power of the federal government was never brought to play through revenue sharing—to provide local governments with sufficient resources to enable them to solve their own problems in their own way."

Harkening back to his own statements that the nation faces reform or revolution, Nixon complained Congress not only has failed to act on sharing federal revenues with state and local governments but is dragging its feet on other vital legislation.

He mentioned family assistance, manpower training, Social Security changes, consolidation of federal grants, electoral reform, new provisions for governing the nation's capital, a series of anticrime proposals, the administration's education proposals, assistance for urban transportation, consumer protection and environmental protection measures.

One of Nixon's key domestic policy aides, briefing reporters on the message but refusing to be quoted by name, was asked if the administration will try to make an election issue of the congressional record on Nixon's 59 proposals—most of which probably cannot be acted upon before the legislators shut up shop for the autumn campaign.

He replied it would be only proper to hold the Democratic-controlled Congress to account "if there's a conscious decision of the management not to bring these matters to a vote."

This presidential assistant, and another nationally known aide who insisted on equal anonymity, agreed Congress should pass all 59 administration bills in the weeks remaining before the balloting.

The chief executive suggested that, while he thinks the executive branch needs reform and efficiency-oriented reorganization, the same is true of the Congress.

The President asserted the executive branch has met a challenge to rescue a society that, he said, might have been viewed as faltering in the not-distant past. He went on:

"This challenge is now before the Congress. It is a challenge not merely to the men who now hold office there but to the institution itself. Congress has not been spared the attacks on the institutions of American democracy which have increasingly characterized this period of our history."

"There is but one answer to such charges, and that is to respond with energy and good faith to the legislative issues before it."

takeover, however.

The theory was that independents, given no sign that a primary was forthcoming, would miss the boat when the political party filings made June 16 the last filing day.

Now, however, the question is whether those filings are valid, and Fleming has recommended that, to be on the safe side, independent candidates file again if they still wish to run in communities that had no primaries.

GM Strike Threat in Crucial Stage

DETROIT (AP) — The threat of a strike at General Motors loomed today as the 1970 auto labor negotiations moved into the crucial final hours before contract expiration at midnight Monday.

United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock said Thursday it appeared GM had decided to "take a strike for both of the target companies" rather than capitulate to the union's major demands.

The other announced target, Chrysler, made an improved contract offer Thursday. Although the union rejected it, Woodcock said he did not believe Chrysler was thinking in terms of carrying matters to the point of a strike.

The union made preparations for a walkout at GM or Chrysler or both but plans appeared firmer among the 416,000 UAW members employed at GM.

A spot check of GM locals in the Detroit area showed thousands of signs had been printed saying, "UAW on Strike Against General Motors."

The resources of the 1.6-million member union would be sorely tested in a battle against the world's largest manufacturing firm.

The $120 million union strike fund would be depleted in about seven weeks, but representatives of the union's rank and file have promised to engage in "an old fashioned strike if necessary," meaning the participants would get along without union benefits after the money runs out.

Details of the rejected new Chrysler proposal were not made public although Woodcock said negotiations would resume today in hope of drawing up an acceptable alternative to the union's proposal on early retirement.

At General Motors, union negotiators worked on nonwage issues while waiting for an expected second offer.

The UAW has stated that if GM is struck, those plants which supply vital parts to Ford, Chrysler and other automakers would be allowed to go on working.

meant the formation of a new government.

The Central Committee also called for this "authority" to withdraw Jordan's armed forces from the cities and redeploy them along the cease-fire line with Israel.

Guerrillas claim that the king has pulled most of the army from the front into positions around Amman and other Jordanian towns since his government accepted a U.S.-sponsored Middle East cease-fire Aug. 7.

Today's broadcast said the new demands were essential for the survival of the latest army-guerrilla cease-fire agreement.

The guerrillas said both sides had agreed "to remove the causes" of clashes that had been going on in Amman for three days. This seemed to indicate a government capitulation to the guerrillas, since it is the guerrillas who have been setting conditions under which the fighting might end.

Even this was no assurance that the agreement would last. A similar pact was announced Tuesday, but it broke down and the fighting resumed before the day was over.

Soon after Amman Radio broadcast the news of the latest agreement, the Jordanian capital gradually began to come alive again. Thousands of persons who had spent the previous 24 hours in basements to avoid the shells and bullets began to come out.

But sporadic shooting could still be heard hours afterward.

MARSHALL

source added. Pan Am and TWA are the only scheduled American carriers flying across the Atlantic and throughout Europe.

The airlines and government agencies declined to confirm or deny the report. All reportedly have agreed to remain silent until the White House announces measures designed to thwart hijackings and aircraft sabotage.

Pilots in the past have opposed sky marshals.

"We haven't much desire to see armed guards on our planes," a spokesman for the pilots declared. "We don't like shoot-outs at 50,000 feet."

Another aviation veteran said there would be little danger from rapid decompression of a jetliner if a bullet pierced the fuselage or shattered a window.

If the aircraft was cruising at 35,000 feet, he explained, it would take less than four minutes to drop to 10,000 feet, an altitude at which everyone could breathe normally without the use of emergency oxygen masks carried aboard all commercial jets.

Some passengers with colds might suffer a ruptured eardrum as a result of the rapid decompression, he said, "but that would be relatively minor discomfort as compared to dying."

Airline and government officials declined to comment on the cost and other practical problems involved in placing guards on planes.

Virtually the only person of prominence willing to speak for the record was Najeef Halaby, Pan American chairman and former FAA administrator.

Friday, September 11, 1970

"I am not proposing armed guards, but we will cooperate fully if the government so decides," Halaby told newsmen.

Halaby said guards on each plane must be under the command of the captain. They must be provided by the government, and be highly trained so as to avoid endangering passengers, he said.

He added the use of armed guards is not a perfect solution, but knowledge of their use could be a deterrent.

Pilot opposition to sky marshals appears to be dwindling.

"This is a new league we are in," one spokesman declared. "Earlier hijackings were the work of 100 per cent losers, loners, kooks, men who had not made it."

"Now there's a new twist—the organized use of hijack techniques for international political purposes," he said. "Pilots are becoming favorable now to the idea of carrying sidearms, using bulkheads between the cabin and the cockpit, and like measures."

Armed guards have been used successfully on airliners in South America, aboard El Al Israel flights such as the one this week on which a hijacker was killed and another captured and, regularly, by Air Cubana.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was the first U.S. president to go through the Panama Canal while in office—aboard the USS Houston on July 11, 1934.

PHONY SURVEYS IRK HOUSEWIFE

Dear Helen: We recently moved to this city, and I wish someone had warned us about the salesmen and women that come flocking to our door!

At least five different pitchmen have used the same tactic: They say they are "taking a survey," and please would I answer a few questions? Of course it's more comfortable to sit down, so they get inside. And then I discover they're selling encyclopedias, magazines, etc.

The fifth salesman who came got a switch: I asked HIM the survey questions. He left fast.

I realize people must earn a living, but I wish they would be honest about it. What to do? — ANNOYED

Dear Annoyed: Get the names of the companies the sales people represent and send in complaints. If enough do this, they'll ditch the pitch. —H.

P. S. A "No solicitors" sign on your door also helps.

Dear Helen: This is for "Stutterer" and millions of other stutterers:

You don't stutter when you sing because you use the lower part of the larynx. So practice talking deep down in the throat, with sentences using many "Ms" and "Ws" and other consonants, especially those you stumble on most often.

Have air in your lungs before speaking, talk slowly, form your words before you speak, as your mind is apt to run ahead of your ability to enunciate. Practice before a mirror in a closed room where no one will hear you. Reading a book out loud helps. Every time you speak, think, "Deep down in the throat!"

One summer I was sent to a boys' camp. Riding from the train to the camp I met a new group of friends with whom I could relax. I lost my stutter for the entire summer. The people you associate with—and what they expect of you—has a psychological effect.

Sometimes becoming aware of your own worth or getting very involved in what you're doing will cure that stutter.

At any rate, give yourself ten minutes' practice every day, and you can help yourself much more than can all those expensive stuttering courses. —FRED

Dear Helen:

I am a middle-aged widow and lucky, I suppose, to have dates. However, my present gentleman friend puzzles me. We get along beautifully until he realizes he is spending money. He never leaves me without crying over the money he has frittered away.

It isn't that much, frankly. When he parts with a dollar, he holds a requiem over it.

I like his company, but this obsession about money bores me. Should I drop a hint? —IN A QUANDARY

Dear In:

Why not? But don't expect a drastic change. (And don't "think marriage" unless there is!) —H.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By LYNNE OLSON

Associated Press Writer SUNDANCE, Utah (AP) — Ask Robert Redford how he feels about his rise to movie stardom, and he's likely to scowl and change the subject. "It's not one of my favorite topics," he says. "Star? That's a label other people are sticking on me. They're just as likely to take it away."

Though sought by film producers since his cool, humorous performance in the box-office hit, "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid," Redford has a strong distaste for Hollywood and the movie industry.

"Hollywood is dying as a film capital and a system," he says. "That's all to the good because it's been corrosive and destructive."

Clad in a faded plaid shirt and blue jeans, he props booted feet up on a desk in his closet-sized office to discuss the place that made him famous.

"It's been corrupted by too many people who didn't belong there, fattening up the payroll. Young people who had ideas, who were much more in tune with what was happening in the world were not given a chance to express themselves," he says.

The 32-year-old Redford prefers to spend his time with his wife, Lola, and their two children at this small, rustic resort he owns in the northern Utah mountains.

Christened "Sundance" after Redford's portrayal of the Sundance Kid, it nestles among tall pines in the Wasatch Mountains, about 15 miles from the town of Provo.

Redford pauses to run a hand over shaggy reddish-gold hair, then shakes his head.

"The system has been led by people who never ventured beyond their Beverly Hills mansions and swimming pools to see what was going on in the world. Sure, they traveled—but only to New York or Paris. They had no idea of what was happening in Nebraska or Utah."

Indian Reservations There are about 250 Indian reservations in the United States. These areas range in size from tiny settlements in California comprising only a few acres to the Navajo reservation of more than 15 million acres in Arizona, New Mexico and Utah.

Says Inventor Owes Back Taxes

RENO, Nev. (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service says inventor William Lear, who built the jet that bears his name and now is tinkering with a smog-free automobile, is in debt to the federal government for $779,724 in back taxes.

A lien has been placed against Lear's property, IRS spokesman Donald Sherman announced Wednesday.

The industrialist-inventor says: "It's harassment. It takes you years to earn it but they want it immediately." Lear says his trouble began in 1966 when a Swiss bank paid a $154 interest check to his corporation, rather than his personal, banking account. The IRS, he said, "wanted to throw out all my tax credits that I would have coming ... I'm just trying to get the advantage of a deferred payment to save interest."

Accordion Accordion first appears as a name in the 1829 patent of C. Demian of Vienna, although an earlier model was patented in 1822 by Friedrich Buschmann of Berlin, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Picks Porks Over Indians by 21-17

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The last time an Arkansas football team opened its season against a team with Stanford's stature was in 1961.

That year the Razorbacks came out on the short end of a 16-0 score with Mississippi.

Since then, they've opened with Oklahoma State, a worthy foe, but without the reputation of Mississippi or Stanford.

Both Arkansas and Stanford have excellent attacking potential with Bill Montgomery calling the signals for the Razorbacks and Jim Plunkett handling the Indians' offense.

Both teams have rebuilt their offensive lines and their defensive secondaries. Both also have veterans in the defensive line.

It is impossible to determine how much the loss of defensive end Ricky Kersey will hamper Arkansas' defense. Until it was announced Kersey would not play, Arkansas looked like a touchdown winner.

David Reavis, a talented sophomore, will replace Kersey.

The Razorbacks have lost two straight (Texas and Mississippi) and have something to prove. The proving ground will be the AstroTurf in War Memorial Stadium Saturday night.

ARKANSAS 21, STANFORD 17.

Arkansas Tech, the favorite in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference, opens its season Friday night at Topeka, Kan.

The Wonder Boys will get off on the right foot.

ARKANSAS TECH 17, WASHBURN UNIVERSITY 7.

State College of Arkansas and Arkansas-AM&N also play Friday night — on the AstroTurf at Little Rock.

AM&N has one of the state's top pro prospects in defensive Charles Burrell. SCA may be more solid down the line.

Missile Belle on Parade Saturday

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Missile Belle, the Sweetheart of Belmont Park, will be on parade again Saturday at her favorite track in the $75,000-added Beldame Stakes for fillies and mares.

The 3-year-old filly, owned by John A. Morris, is expected to be one of about 12 who will contest the 1 1/4-mile Beldame.

Among those trying to break up Missile Belle's romance with Belmont are expected to be Barbara Hunter's Pattee Canyon, winner of five straight before finishing third and seventh in her two previous starts, and Mrs. Whitney Stone's Shuvee, a smashing winner of the Diana at Saratoga in her last outing.

In the weight-for-age Beldame, 3-year-old fillies get 118 pounds and older horses 123.

The big race Saturday on the West Coast will be the six-furlong, $60,000-added Del Mar Futurity in which nine 2-year-olds have been entered. They include Vested Power, high-weighted at 122, and Kfar, 119.

About 12 are expected for the $50,000-added Sun Beau Handicap over 1 1/8 miles on the grass at Hawthorne including Kerry's Time, 119; Big Shot II, 118, and Indian Emerald, 116.

Two-year-olds also will be headlined at Atlantic City where a field of 10 is shaping up for the seven-furlong, $25,000-added World's Playground Stakes.

Brazen Brother and No Back Talk are the early favorites.

Montgomery, Plunkett Key Figures

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Heisman Trophy voters can compare two leading candidates when quarterbacks Jim Plunkett and Bill Montgomery display their talents in the Stanford-Arkansas game here Saturday.

The nationally televised game between two of the top 10 teams in the country matches quarterbacks who already possess eye-catching credentials.

Plunkett, a 6-3, 215-pounder, has rewritten the Pacific-8 record book. In two years, he has amassed 4,989 yards, including 4,829 passing. He has completed 339 of 604 attempts in two seasons. Last year, the Indians were 7-2-1, including a 26-24 loss to Southern Cal and a 36-35 loss to Purdue.

With the 6-1, 180-pound Montgomery at the controls, Arkansas has put together two straight 9-1 seasons. In 1969, the lone loss was a 15-14 decision at the hands of Texas in the Big Shootout.

Montgomery, in 21 games, has thrown for 3,451 yards and netted an additional 327 yards as a runner. He owns most of Arkansas passing records, and set a Sugar Bowl total offense record with 360 yards in a 27-20 loss to Mississippi and Archie Manning last Jan. 1.

Arkansas coach Frank Broyles will say only that Plunkett and Manning, another Heisman Trophy candidate, are "both outstanding in their own way."

Plunkett throws more than Manning and Manning runs more than Plunkett, Broyles said. "One is just as successful as the other. Manning would just as soon run as throw. Plunkett would rather throw, but he will run."

Both fourth-ranked Arkansas and 10th-ranked Stanford have exceptional veterans at many of the skilled positions.

The Razorbacks boast tailback Bill Burnett, who has scored 37 touchdowns in two seasons, tight end Pat Morrison and wide receivers Chuck Dicus and John Rees.

"Stanford is the first team we've seen at Arkansas which has two great wide receivers, quick and fast with good hands, plus a tight end who is so good you need to double-cover him as much as you can, plus a fine running attack," said Charley Coffey, mastermind of Arkansas' defense.

He was referring to split end Jack Lasater, flanker Randy Vataha and tight end Bob Moore.

Stanford has replaced its graduated running backs with Hillary Shockley and Jackie Brown, two talented juniors.

"It's not easy to replace people like Bubba Brown and Howie Williams, but our staff feels that Hillary and Jackie can do it, and maybe with a little to spare," said Stanford Coach John Ralston.

"Plunkett has a good cast just him, they wouldn't be the contender (for national honors) that they are."

"The impressive thing is that they've played such good football last year that they gained tremendous confidence and national recognition are to get started this year," Broyles said.

"You can tell by the comments of their coaches and players and that's frightening."

breaking the all-time NCAA record 491 established by North Texas State's Ramsey. And the way Oklahoma coach Chuck Fairbanks is taling, Hixon will more than likely get them against the Sooners before some 55,000 to 60,000 in the Cotton Bowl.

"Hixon is one of the great passers in the country," said Fairbanks. "He never has a bad game. We expect them to complete passes. We only hope we can avoid the homerun type pass and not give them anything easy."

Oklahoma will unveil its new triple-option offense and prototype pass defense. Quarterback Jack Mildren runs the Sooners attack. The last time the two teams met SMU stunned the Sooners 28-27 in the Bluebonnet Bowl in 1968.

SMU coach Hayden Fry said he is concerned on how to cope with Oklahoma's speed.

Wichita State coach Ben Wilson indicates the Shockers may have a surprise or two for Coach Gene Stallings' Texas Aggies.

Orioles and Twins Taking Ticket Orders

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bowie Kuhn won't let the Cleveland Indians and Washington Senators print World Series tickets, so they're passing the time away engraving each other.

While Baltimore and Minnesota, given go-aheads by the commissioner Thursday to begin taking Series ticket orders, continued their countdown to American League division titles, the Indians and Senators went at it again in their struggle for a better-than-last place finish in the East.

A spartan turnout of 2,746 in Cleveland's 76,997-seat Municipal Stadium saw the Indians outslug Washington's Frank Howard, four home runs to two, on the way to a 13-4 victory that sent them one game up on the Senators. Washington had won 5-4 Wednesday night to create a virtual fifth-place deadlock.

The Orioles nicked the New York Yankees 2-1 behind Dave McNally, reducing their magic number to nine for clinching a second successive East Division crown, and the Twins swept a doubleheader from Oakland 6-1 and 7-2 for a magic number of 12 to repeat as West Division champs.

Boston trounced Detroit 14-0 and Kansas City swept a twin bill from Milwaukee 2-0 and 10-2 in other AL action. The Chicago White Sox and California Angels were idle.

In the National League, Pittsburgh blanked St. Louis 2-0; the New York Mets shaded Philadelphia 3-2 in 11 innings; the Chicago Cubs whipped Montreal 9-3; San Francisco walloped Houston 11-0; San Diego nudged Atlanta 3-2 and Cincinnati pasted Los Angeles 13-4.

Howard slammed his 41st and 42nd homers for the Senators, but Ted Uhlaender, Roy Foster, Vada Pinson and John Lowenstein all reached the seats for the homer-happy Indians, enabling rookie Steve Dunning to gain his fourth pitching victory in 13 decisions.

Uhlaender drove in four runs with his 10th homer and a bunt single; Duke Sims drilled a three-run double and Foster, Pinson and newcomer Lowenstein hit homers No. 21, 20 and 1 respectively.

McNally flipped a six-hitter for his 22nd victory and Andy Etchebarren homered as the Orioles soared 11 games ahead of the second place Yanks in the East.

The Twins virtually buried Oakland's hopes by completing a three-game blitz of the second-place A's to move 8 1/2 lengths ahead in the West.

Left-hander Tom Hall scattered seven hits and struck out 11 in the opener. Brant Aleya's two-run single and a homer by Tony Oliva provided the second-game margin for southpaw Jim Kaat.

Mike Andrews and Carl Yastrzemski blasted three-run homers and drove in five and four runs, respectively, as the Red Sox pounded Detroit behind the three-hit pitching of Ray Culp.

Paul Schaal's two-run single and the four-hit pitching of Bill Butler and Ted Abernathy led the Royals past Milwaukee in the first game. They completed the sweep as Dick Drago scattered five hits and Lou Piniella knocked in four runs.

The Bears of Baylor and the Missouri Tigers kickoff the 1970 college football season tonight, while the armchair fans get their baptism of fire Saturday night when Stanford plays Arkansas.

Missouri, which posted a 9-1 record in 1969 before losing to Penn State in the Orange Bowl, will take a No. 11 ranking in the Associated Press preseason poll into its game against Baylor at St. Louis. The Bears were winless in 10 games last season.

Senior tailback Joe Moore, third in the nation in rushing with 1,312 yards last season, will lead the attack for the Tigers, who appear set at every position except quarterback.

Either Chuck Roper or Mike Farmer will start tonight in place of the graduated Terry McMillan. A prime target for their passes will be sprint champion Mel Gray.

Left-handed quarterback Loney Cook, a senior who is considered as much of a runner as a passer, and sophomore tailback Matthew Williams are being counted on to help lead Baylor back.

While fans flock to stadiums throughout the country on Saturday, millions of others will settle down before television sets to watch the Stanford-Arkansas game which will be carried from Little Rock, Ark. by ABC starting at 6 p.m., EDT.

Stanford, ranked 10th, and Arkansas, No. 4, each possess one of the country's top quarterbacks.

Jim Plunkett runs the Stanford offense, and Bill Montgomery guides Arkansas.

Two other members of the Top Ten also will be in action Saturday—No. 9 Nebraska and third-ranked Southern California.

Wake Forest will play at Nebraska in the afternoon, while Jimmy Jones will lead Southern Cal into Bear Bryant country for a battle with 16th-ranked Alabama at night.

Other openers include Utah State at 14th-ranked Kansas State, Duke at No. 14 Florida, 17th-ranked South Carolina at Georgia Tech, 18th-ranked UCLA at Oregon State and William & Mary at No. 20 West Virginia.

Indians Have Their Best Practice

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas State University Indians went through what coach Bennie Ellender called their best practice to date Thursday.

"We showed a lot of enthusiasm and a lot of alertness," Ellender said. "I certainly think we got a lot accomplished ..."

On 3rd Try Ernie Banks Got Key Hit

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ernie Banks and Milt Pappas might not have said it but the pair of veteran Chicago Cubs are perfect examples of the familiar saying: If at first you don't succeed, try, try again.

Banks, thwarted twice at attempting to sacrifice bunt, swung away and crashed a three-run homer that snapped a 2-2 tie and sent the Cubs flying to a 9-3 triumph over Montreal Wednesday.

While Pappas, acquired late in June from Atlanta, after failing to win consistently with the Braves and the Cincinnati Reds before that, hurled six innings as he won his 10th game as a Cub.

The victory kept Chicago just one game off the pace of the Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Mets, co-leaders in the torrid National League East battle.

The Pirates blanked St. Louis 2-0 on Luke Walker's two-hitter while the Mets had to go 14 innings before subduing the stubborn Philadelphia Phillies 3-2 on Cleon Jones' run-scoring triple.

In other games, San Francisco trounced Houston 11-0, Cincinnati battered Los Angeles 13-4 and San Diego edged Atlanta 3-2.

In the American League, Baltimore edged New York 2-1, Cleveland trounced Washington 13-4, Kansas City took a doubleheader from Milwaukee 2-0, 10-2, Boston belted Detroit 14-0 and Minnesota swept a twinbill from Oakland 6-1, 7-2.

The 39-year-old Banks also delivered a run-scoring single in the seventh inning and received a standing ovation when he left for a pinch hitter.

"I wish this was the first day of spring training and we were starting the season all over," said Banks, who has only seen limited action in 63 games because of ailing knees.

It was Banks' 12th homer this season and No. 509 lifetime, placing the Chicago first baseman only two homers behind Mel Ott's 511 and the eighth spot on the all-time list.

Pappas, 12-7 and 10-5 as a Cub, requested the start with only two days rest. He yielded four hits and left for a pinch hitter with a 7-3 lead.

"I volunteered to start because the chips are down now. I didn't get tired, but I was struggling and it was right to leave when I did," said the 31-year-old right-hander.

Pappas had nine successful seasons with Baltimore in the American League, winning 110 and losing 74 games before he was traded to the Reds in December of 1965 for Frank Robinson.

In 2 1/2 seasons with Cincinnati Pappas had a 30-29 mark before the Braves purchased him midway in 1968. With Atlanta he was 18-20 when Chicago got him on June 26.

Walker, 12-6, struck out nine and only walked one as the left-hander helped snap the Pirates losing streak at three games.

The hit Walker gave up were singles by Dai Maxvill in the third inning and Jim Beau-

Ashdown Panthers Defeats Hope Bobcats In Opener

Old Foes to Tie Up at Prescott

By BILL MOORE
Star Sportswriter

Another Friday, another game; But not just any game. This is a game between two of the oldest foes, to see who can look, laugh, and until this time next year say, "We beat you!"

Prescott is 1-0, Hope is 0-1, but in a rivalry such as this, statistics and records have no meaning, because as I said yesterday, anything can happen.

Prescott is mostly made up of a senior team and they are supposed to be one of the best challengers for the 7 A title. The Curley Wolves present a powerful running attack and they can also pass.

Looking at the other side, the Bobcats showed their pride and determination by coming back last Friday and tying Ashdown, only to lose on a few mistakes. That's the sign of a champion, and the Cats believe they can win this one.

So, tonight we will see just who will present the most problem for the other. My prediction is a Bobcat victory over Prescott. Maybe 14-12.

Jan Ferraris Takes Lead in LPGA Play

OCEAN SHORES, Wash. (AP) Jan Ferraris got her putting straightened out on a day the wind was determined not to help and bore her way to a one stroke lead in the first round of the $40,000 Wendell-West Invitational Golf Tournament here.

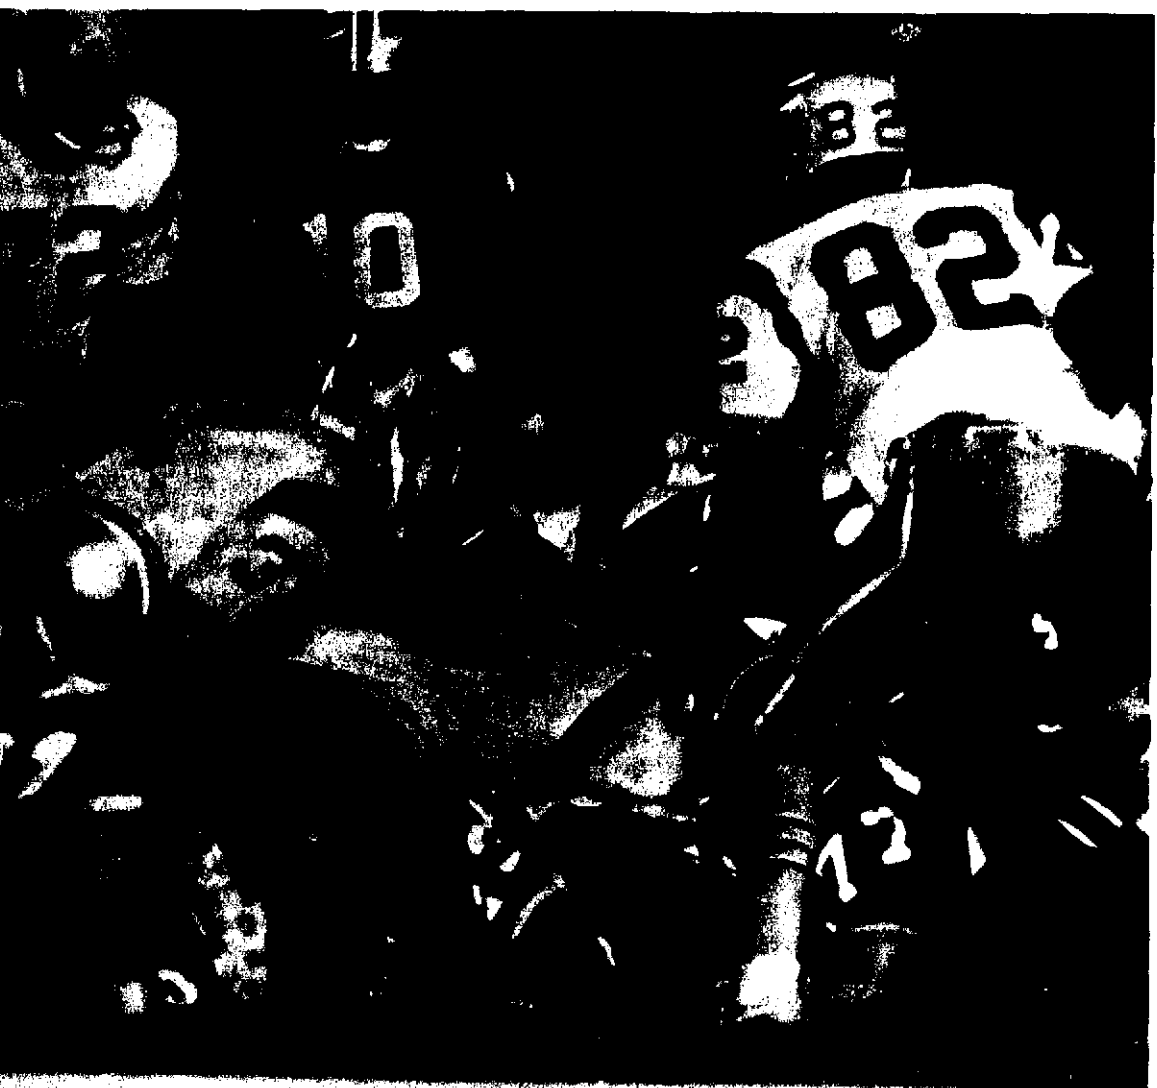

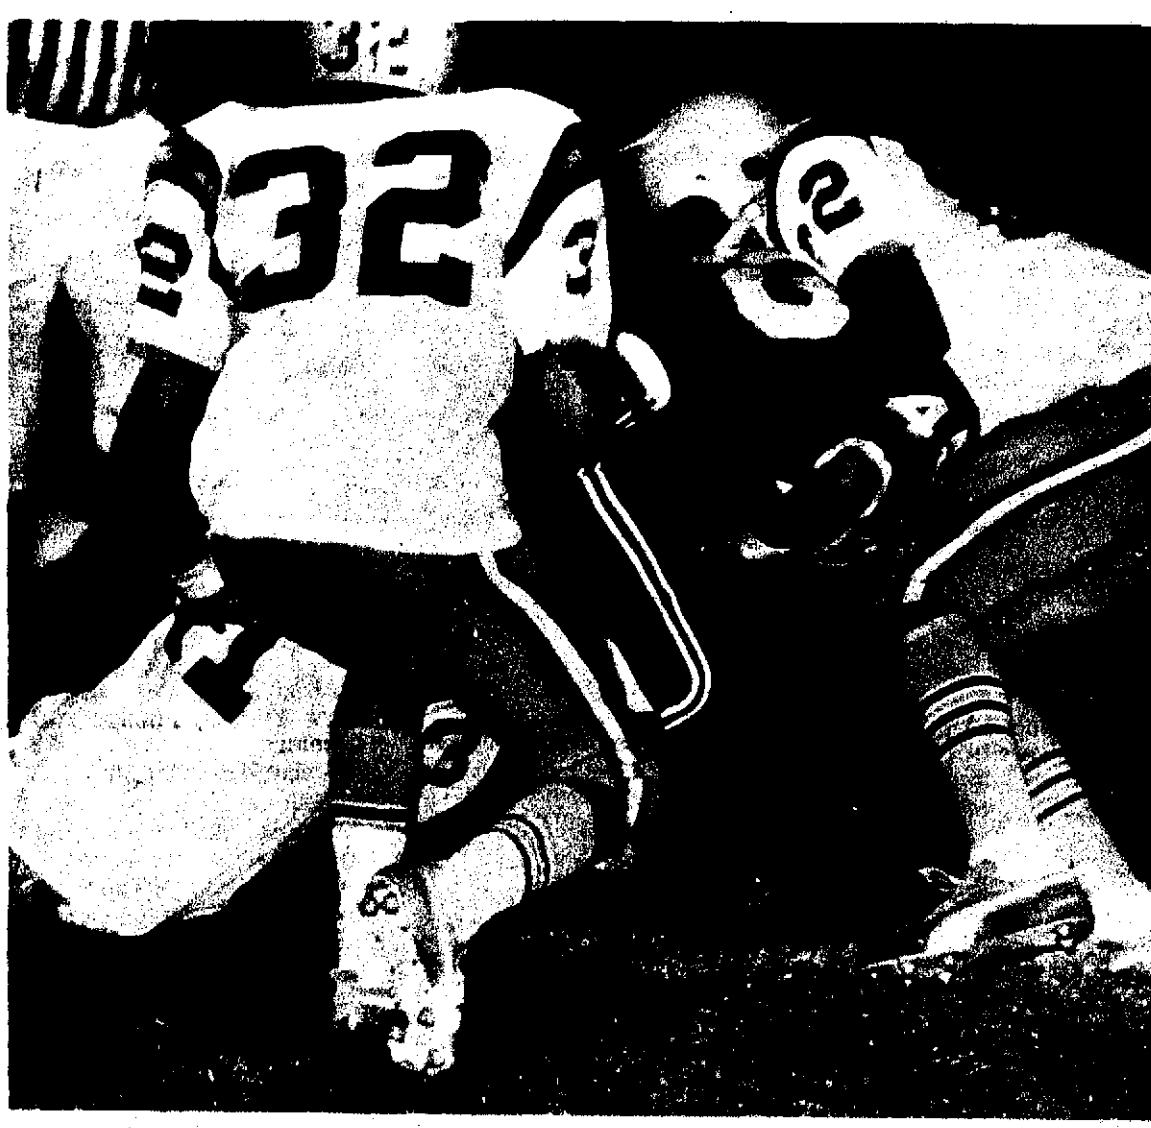

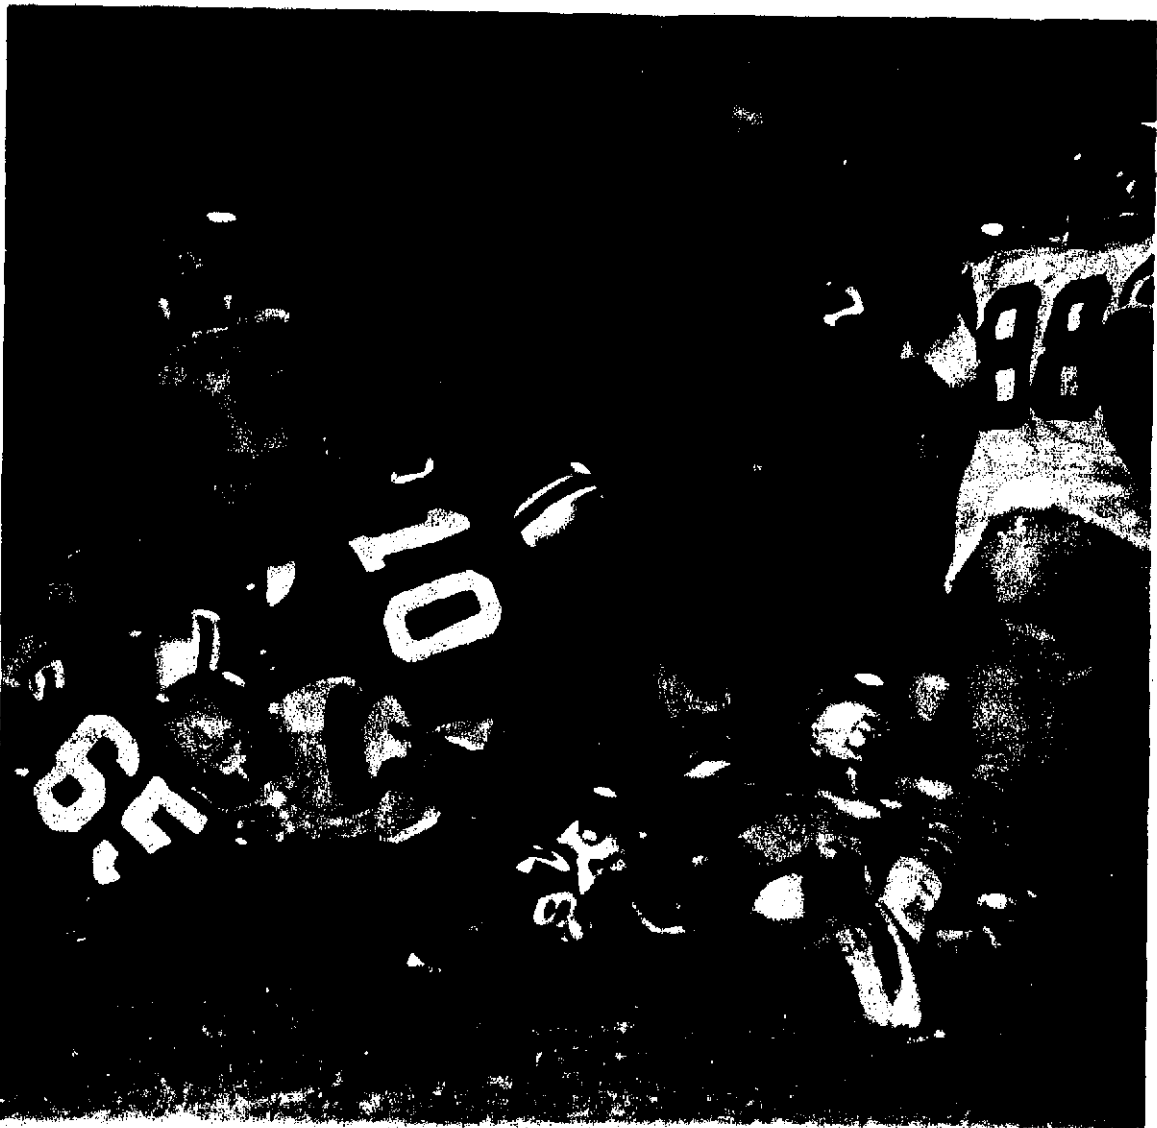

Miss Ferraris, 23, fired a one-under-par 71 on the 6,021-yard Ocean Shores Golf Club course Thursday as a wind of up to 35 miles an hour whipped the golfers.

De De Owens of Hemingway, S.C.; Jo Anne Gunderson Carner of Kirkland, Wash., both first year pros; and Sandra Spuzich of Indianapolis, Ind., were tied for second at 72. Defending champion Kathy Whitworth, playing on her sponsoring course, had trouble with her putting and was grouped at 77.

Shirley Englehorn of Caldwell, Idaho, third in the tournament last year, was tied with four others at 73.

"I've been having trouble with my putting all year," Miss Ferraris said. "I changed putters three times this week and I ended up with my original putter. I also changed my stance a little and I guess it helped."

"It's hard to stand still when you're putting and the wind is blowing and you have to adjust for it," she added.

Curley Cubs Squeeze by Hope Jrs.

By Bill Moore
Star Sportswriter

Mistakes can be costly and such was the case Thursday night for the Hope Bobkittens, who time after time fumbled away chances for big chunks of yardage and possible scores.

In the first quarter, neither team could do much, trading punts and fumbles up and down the field. The Kittens did penetrate as far as the Prescott 22 yard line.

The first part of the second quarter saw nothing, with Hope putting together a drive, although penalties forced a retreat and the half soon ran out.

With 55 seconds left in the first half quarterback Gary Rhodes got off a nine yard pass to Willard Whitman. Immediately following, Rhodes again connected, when he found Terry Smith in the secondary to complete a 24-yard play.

However an illegal receiver was down field on a 15-yard penalty left the Kittens on their own 19-yard line. The final play of the half was a 13-yard screen pass to David Huddleston.

With the score still 0-0 at the outset of the third quarter, both teams came back charged and ready to win.

Prescott took the kickoff and charged down to the Kitten 24-yard line before the defense rose to halt the Curley Cubs, who had to punt.

For five long minutes the Kittens ground out yardage, only coming to the Cub 44, a forced punt put the Prescott team on their own 27. As Prescott started upfield they fumbled and after Kitten Eugene Tyree had recovered the Hope squad looked in good shape with only four minutes remaining in the game.

Just as the momentum appeared to be there, fate came and on a large loss combined with a penalty left the Kittens sitting on their own 37 yard stripe.

With 2:40 left, Prescott recovered another Kitten fumble on the Hope 15 and five plays later had scored on a two-yard smash by Randall Kennicott. The PAT was no good and with 0:35 showing the Curley Cubs led 6-0.

Hope didn't give up though and although there was a penalty, the ball rested on the 43 yard line when the game ended.

To lose a game by such a slim margin when you played so good is a bad feeling, but the Bobkittens will be out for revenge next week when they travel to Ashdown for a 7:30 p.m. kickoff.

The offensive line opened up some pretty good sized holes through the game, while the defense held when they needed to, most of the time and you can bet they will improve each week.

Now a Park

The original farm of Thomas Lincoln, three miles from Hodgenville, Ky., is now the Abraham Lincoln National Park. A Green memorial encloses the last cabin reportedly Lincoln's birthplace.

Halas Gets Quick Idea About Money

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer George Halas can get a quick idea tonight which direction his money would have gone when his Chicago Bears close their pre-season schedule against last year's Central Division and National Football League champion Minnesota Vikings.

Halas, the 75-year-old owner of the Bears, for some reason or another felt enough confidence in the Bears that he was willing to lay down $15,000 at Las Vegas odds of 300-1 that they would win the Central Division title this year.

Now, not only are the Vikings a strong favorite to defend their division crown, but the Bears would have to come back from a 1-13 record in 1969 to prove Halas a prophet.

They haven't shown much improvement thus far during the exhibition season, losing their last three games after winning one and tying one.

In the only other game tonight, Denver and Boston meet at Salt Lake City, Utah. The Buffalo-Broncos game at Green Bay was set back from tonight to Saturday night. That made eight games Saturday night.

Baltimore plays at Washington, Detroit is at Cincinnati, Cleveland travels to the New York Giants, Miami hosts Atlanta, San Diego plays at New Orleans, Oakland entertains Pittsburgh and San Francisco plays at Los Angeles.

The New York Jets and Dallas will play the television game Sunday night in the Cotton Bowl while Kansas City plays at St. Louis. Houston is at Philadelphia in the afternoon. Halas will never get his chance to make his bet—he said he would distribute the $3 million winnings among the Vince Lombardi, John V. Mara and Brian Piccolo cancer funds.

Football Commissioner Pete Rozelle quickly turned thumbs down on the idea the young Cats and the score does not indicate the kind of contest it was.

Hope is wearing the dark jerseys.

"Try to be at peace with all men" (Hebrews 12:14).

We are forever talking of peace, but we continue to quarrel. We think we must fight. We demonstrate with hate and destruction as our motivating force. How shall I change it? What is my next step? How do I become a real peace maker?

The Scriptures clearly give the message. "Thou shalt love thy brother."

Then, if I am serious, I must answer. I must put love in place of hate. I must frankly face the fact that I actually hate or despise another man who also is a son of God. That is my sin.

Immediately I must look into his life and discover some good about him. I must love him.

Do not hate a Democrat, or Republican, or a Black man, or a White man, or a Jew, Catholic, or Protestant.

Other people love those guys, why can't I?

I too must discover some good which I don't know about, if I am to set myself free of hate.

Then, I must seriously set out to live

Hebrews 12:14.

Opening lead—♥ K

The original Culbertson asking bid was completely artificial. It was an extra jump in a new suit and it asked partner about first and second round control in that suit.

Today's hand was played by Culbertson in one of his last tournament appearances. He was playing with Ted Lightner, one of the truly great players and Ely's favorite partner.

Culbertson has been dead for almost 20 years. Lightner, who is now 77, still plays very fine rubber bridge at New York's Regency Whist club. He is still an excellent bidder and player.

Ely's jump to four clubs was a Culbertson asking bid. Lightner is always pessimistic but he knew that Ely wanted to find out about the club ace and Teddy showed it like a true soldier.

Ely couldn't be sure about the king of spades but he gambled that if Lightner did not hold that nice card he might finesse for it successfully. In any case, Ely, like most great players, was not afraid to bid grand slams so he went right to seven spades.

Seven spades made easily. It may look like an easy grand slam to get to by some other method but in this particular match Ely's opponents didn't even reach a small slam with Ely's cards, so that this asking bid was worth the full grand slam bonus to Ely's team.

A—Pass. Your partner has suggested a grand slam but you have done all the bidding your cards warrant.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding one diamond your partner has responded one heart. What do you do now?

Hall Dumps Catholic High 21-13

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Little Rock Hall's Alan Thompson romped 43 yards for a fourth quarter touchdown that secured the top-ranked Warriors' 21-13 victory over Little Rock Catholic Thursday night. Sixth-ranked Little Rock Catholic, guided by left-handed quarterback Jimmy Doolittle, had held a 13-7 halftime advantage. Doolittle completed 20 of 30 passes for 288 yards during the evening.

Thompson, who gained almost 180 yards during the game, picked up 31 yards in a 48-yard drive that put the Warriors ahead. David Bunting scored the touchdown and John Harville's extra point gave Hall a 14-13 lead with four minutes left in the third period.

Hall stopped the Rockets inside the Warriors' 20 twice in the final half.

In other action, Memphis Carver rallied in the second half for a 24-15 victory over Little Rock Horace Mann. Tail-history. But they did Thursday when Gaylord blanked the Houston Astros on four hits in an 11-0 San Francisco Giants romp. The victory boosted Gaylord's record to 20-13 and, coupled with Jim's 22-11 mark with the Minnesota Twins, gave them the distinction of being the only brother team in major league history to win 20 games the same season.

"When we were youngsters," Gaylord recalls, "we never thought about winning games in the majors—we were just hoping we'd have a chance to get here."

You Could Help A 'Litter Bit'

"Visual pollution" is getting action here and there across the land. That's the new name for litter — trash tossed onto pavements, roadsides, public and private property. Such uglification is widespread in South Florida, as elsewhere. We are inclined to fear it will get worse until ways are found of removing the present accumulation of litter. There seems to be a subconscious reluctance in people to mar a clean place with the first piece of trash. Conversely, dirty gutters, for example, seem to invite more of the same.

If existing shreds of paper, flattened cans and the like could be hauled away, the cleaned-up scene might stay that way for a while, at least. In communities all over the country, cleanup drives are being launched — Philadelphia, Seattle, Pittsfield, Mass., to mention just a few. The need is obvious. The National Academy of Sciences reported last year that in one month a typical mile of highway was cluttered with 1,304 pieces of litter — paper, cans, bottles and jars, plastic and miscellaneous junk. The cost to taxpayers is enormous, perhaps some $500 million a year nationwide.

This "hidden tax" isn't likely to spark countermeasures as much as the affront to the eyes from the slovenliness. "Visual pollution" would cease overnight, of course, if each man, woman and child decided to stop it. Litter would vanish if each passerby picked up a single bit and put it in a container or his own garbage can. None would be added if everyone resolved firmly to litter no more. — Miami (Fla.) Herald

Judge Decides to Rule on War Legality

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal judge says he has decided to rule on the constitutionality of the Vietnam war because he believes it is time the courts stopped avoiding the issue. Judge William Swigert made the statement in U.S. District Court Thursday in refusing to dismiss a lawsuit filed by four University of California students seeking to have the war declared illegal and unconstitutional.

Swigert said the U.S. Supreme Court has been "resourcefully ducking" the issue on the grounds it is "political" and a question of "sovereign immunity."

He said that although the war was never declared by Congress, President Nixon and former presidents "continued, nevertheless, to conduct the war without receiving or even requesting a congressional declaration."

The question of whether the Constitution says the power to declare war lies with Congress and not the president "should rest upon something better than the ambivalences of congressional inaction," Swigert said.

The Supreme Court has demonstrated its resourcefulness in finding ways and means of eliminating or minimizing undesirable, practical consequences that might otherwise follow major decisions charting new requirements in the field of constitutional law "in connection with the Vietnam war," he declared.

The judge said he would withhold a decision until government attorneys have filed an answer to his denial of their motion to dismiss the suit by Garry F. Motola, 23, James R. Schwartz, 23, Irving M. Gross, 22, and Roy Olson, 24, all of Berkeley.

Swigert reviewed various arguments proposed to justify U.S. action in Vietnam, such as self-defense and treaty obligations, and said those arguments "merely purport to explain why, for various reasons of expedience, the Constitution has not been complied with."

Hurricane Howls Up Gulf of Mexico

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Hurricane Ella, growing stronger by the hour, aimed 90-mile-per-hour winds today at the area where Mexico and Texas meet at Brownsville. Relief agencies began mobilizing.

The Weather Bureau said Ella's forward motion dropped from 20 m.p.h. to 18 during the morning. Slowing of a hurricane generally means an increase in power.

The latest forecasts indicated Ella would hit the coast a little before dusk. Earlier forecasts said it probably would hit shortly after noon.

Winds near the center mounted from 85 m.p.h. in early morning to 90 m.p.h. at mid-morning.

Brownsville is a city of 51,000 on the Mexican border 18 miles from the Gulf of Mexico.

Thursday, Ella was moving forward at 10 m.p.h. after crossing the tip of Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula and speeded up during the night.

Hurricane warnings were in effect in the Brownsville-Port Isabel area of Texas while gale warnings and a hurricane watch were in effect north of Brownsville to Port Aransas. A hurricane watch was in effect elsewhere along the Texas coast.

Winds and tides were expected to reach hurricane force in the Brownsville area by early afternoon.

The weather bureau expected tides up to eight feet in the Brownsville-Port Isabel area as the storm moved inland.

Ella first appeared Wednesday as a tropical depression and developed rapidly after she passed over the Yucatan Peninsula Thursday and reached the warm waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

Murphy Offered Police Post

NEW YORK (AP) — City Hall sources say Mayor John V. Lindsay has offered the job of New York City police commissioner to Patrick V. Murphy, who now holds a similar post in Detroit.

Lindsay said "no comment" Thursday when asked at a news conference whether he had picked a successor to Commissioner Howard R. Leary, who quit last weekend.

A Little Caution Is Advisable When You Buy in a Pawn Shop

By JEFFREY D. ALDERMAN

Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — James Joseph O'Connell was about to embark on a leisurely trip across the United States and figured he ought to have a camera. But because his trip was going to be extremely low budget (with knapsack and two changes of underwear and in a '53 Ford), he didn't want to tie up much of his capital in photographic gear.

"Don't go to a camera store," cautioned a friend. "They'll charge you an arm and a leg. ... Try a drug store or something like that."

James Joseph thought that was good advice and started out for downtown and a drugstore where a friend of his ran the soda fountain.

Walking along a back street in Denver, he glanced in a pawn shop window.

"Wow," he thought. "A pawn shop. They're always loaded with cameras. Ought to get a real bargain in there."

The shop was dingy, dimly lit and filled with tables cluttered with merchandise—one with old umbrellas, another with radios, another with clocks. But there, in the corner, was the table James Joseph was after; it was overflowing with cameras of all shapes and sizes.

He came upon a small, simple camera—the aim and snap kind just what he wanted. The tag read: "445-825."

"Excuse me, sir," he asked the shop owner. "What does this

Bumpers Sees Victory as Mandate for New Democratic Leadership

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dale Bumpers, winner of the Democratic nomination for governor, sees his victory as a "mandate for new leadership."

"I think the people want a leader they believe when he says he believes in fairness, decency, dignity ... somebody they trust to be responsible and at the same time responsive to the needs of the people," Bumpers said in an interview.

He said that since he defeated former Gov. Orval E. Faubus in Tuesday's runoff he has been preparing for the Democratic state convention Sept. 18-19 and calling supporters to thank them for their help.

Bumpers, 45, said a platform committee was working on a tentative draft of a platform to present to the convention.

"The platform will embrace essentially the things I've been talking about," Bumpers said. "There may possibly be some additions to it."

Charles D. Matthews of North Little Rock, chairman of the state party, has said he does not want the chairmanship again. Bumpers said, however, that Matthews had offered "his fulltime services to me during the campaign."

Bumpers plans to speak in Fort Smith Saturday and attend the Stanford-Arkansas football game later that day. He is to go to Washington Tuesday to discuss party unity with the Democratic members of the state's congressional delegation.

Bumpers said he had a "cordial" telephone conversation with Faubus thanking the former governor for a letter of congratulations in which Faubus said he would support the Democratic nominees in the November general election.

Bumpers, asked if he wanted the active support of Faubus, said: "I don't know what his plans are. We want the support of everybody we can find."

Bumpers said he was "very optimistic" of defeating Republican Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller in the general election.

He said he thought he could retain the votes of "practically all" Democrats who voted for him Tuesday.

Says Congress Is Playing Politics

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, in a document widely viewed as his indirect entry into the 1970 election campaign, suggested today the Democratic-controlled Congress has picaresque political purposes.

In a lengthy message to the Senate and House, Nixon generally was restrained in his language. But, in ticking off 59 of his proposals that await final action, he made his message clear:

"Time now slips away. The Congress is coming to a close. Its work is not done. The issues I have asked to be considered have not been considered. And yet matters press. We cannot wait for politics. We must seek a record of achievement all can share."

Nixon released his catalogue of "most wanted" legislation a day after posing, unannounced, for campaign photos with Republican candidates and giving a personal sendoff to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Agnew is undertaking an arduous campaign swing of the sort Nixon, as vice president, often carried out while the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower was said to be taking the non-

Shots Fired in Race Riot at Earle

EARLE, Ark. (AP) — Gunfire broke out here Thursday night after 150-200 Negroes marched on City Hall.

Mayor James H. King said at least 100 shots were fired, but that nobody was shot. He said he had been inside City Hall and had no idea who was doing the shooting.

State Police said all highways into the East Arkansas city of 3,500 were blocked.

King said "four or five" persons had been arrested, including the Rev. Ezra Greer, director of the Crittenden County Improvement Association.

King said Greer had been charged with inciting a riot, parading without a permit and disturbing the peace. He said Greer was one of the leaders of the march.

Greer's wife, Jackie, reportedly suffered a head injury and was hospitalized at Memphis.

Two youngsters were hospitalized at West Memphis. Officials said Lettie Mitchell, 14, received 10 stitches in her head. The other girl was identified as Ethel Jean Johnson, 16. The extent of her injuries were not known.

Mrs. Clay Maple of Earle was hospitalized at West Memphis with a gunshot wound. Officials said Mrs. Maple, a Negro, was shot in an area of the city several blocks away from City Hall.

Authorities said Greer accompanied Mrs. Maple to the West Memphis hospital and was retained for examination.

There has been racial tension in Earle for several days. Earlier Thursday, 26 Negroes were convicted in Mayor's Court of charges related to a walkout Monday at Earle schools by Negroes.

King said he did not believe the disturbance was connected with the convictions.

"I wouldn't think so, the little amount we fined them," he said. The fines ranged from $21 to $100, including $50 fines for 23 persons convicted of parading without a permit.

A suit was filed at Little Rock Thursday on behalf of the Crittenden County Improvement Association accusing the Earle School Board of suppressing black expression.

Mike Bowie, a newsman for the West Memphis Evening Times, said several Negroes gathered at a church shortly after the trial in Mayor's Court ended. Bowie said the meeting lasted about three hours and that the group then dispersed. He said several Negroes returned to the church later and that the group left the church about 10 p.m.

Earle has a long-standing curfew prohibiting persons under 18 from being on the streets after 10 p.m.

Bowie said the group, including several young persons, moved along Arkansas 149 through Earle and then turned onto a city street. He said the group headed west toward City Hall.

Bowie said the group stopped about one-half block east of City Hall after being confronted by Earle Police, Crittenden County authorities, State Police and members of the Earle Volunteer Fire Department.

The gunfire then began, he said.

Arab Moderates Try to Remove Hostages From Storm, Guerrillas Balk Agreement Eases Middle East Fighting

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Arab guerrillas announced new demands today declaring they were essential for peaceful coexistence between the commandos and King Hussein's Jordanian regime.

The demands were presented after the guerrillas announced a new peace agreement with the government, and the fighting in Amman subsided.

The guerrillas demanded "formation of a national authority representing the forces of the people to run the country and purge antiguerrilla elements from the army, the state and police."

The announcement came over the guerrilla radio based in Baghdad, Iraq. It speaks for the over-all guerrilla leadership, the Central Committee of the Palestine Resistance Movement.

The broadcast did not explain whether the "national authority" the commandos demanded

CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has taken to the campaign trail with a word of advice from President Nixon: Stress the issue of disorder in the streets and campuses because Americans don't want "a bunch of radicals" using violence as a path to power.

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the solid support of Republican and Democratic leaders of Congress, President Nixon moved today to place armed guards aboard international and some domestic flights of U.S. airlines, starting Saturday, to counter aerial piracy.

Armed federal agents will ride shotgun on overseas flights of two U.S. airlines in an attempt to foil hijacking attempts, an informed source disclosed today.

Treasury agents and Federal Aviation Administration marshals will be assigned to transatlantic and European flights of Trans World Airlines and Pan American World Airways, the source said.

The sky marshals currently are undergoing training and will board flights Saturday, the source said.

Moderate leaders of the Palestinian guerrillas tried today to take over more than 280 hostages held at a desert airstrip in Jordan but the hijackers, members of an extremist guerrilla group, said they had not reached a decision and would announce their position later.

The moderates had said the hostages would be moved to Amman where they would remain under their "charge and protection" until their fate was decided. In Amman, the hijackers returned passports to 147 persons freed brought there earlier from the airliners and told them they could leave Jordan.

Earlier, the leftist Arab governments of Iraq and Syria joined the West in the campaign to get the hijackers to release the hostages and three airliners being held.
